Sprint 0

Appointed weekly scrum meeting times.

Keely (leader) 07/31/2023 6:26 PM
5pm wed, 5pm fri, 7pm sun
react w a thumbs down if that doesn't work
👍 1

0.3 - 02/08/2023

Making a start on Sprint 0. Each member attending the next scrum meeting will come up with 5 user stories each.

Keely (leader) 08/02/2023 12:15 PM
I think that coming to class next week with at least 5 user stories each shouldn't be too hard or too time intensive and it'll help us be on top of things. Then in class we can flesh them out, maybe create some more ect. The assignment doesn't specify how many we need but generally more is better @everyone look at the project requirements (on the canvas assignments page) and create 5 user stories before Tuesdays class!! Should only take like max 15 min.

0.4 - 14/08/2023

(1) Notifying members of what's been done and needs to be cross checked. (2) Milestone 1 submission requirements clarification from the lecturer.

tanya 08/14/2023 11:33 PM

August 15, 2023

Kevin 08/15/2023 12:02 PM

- Write test cases and Definition of Done (DOD) for each Product Backlog Item (PBI).
- Write your Sprint Planning notes for the first sprint (that will start at week 6)
- Breakdown user stories into tasks for the first sprint into sub-tasks and give them effort number
- Prepare the Sprint 1 backlog (tasks)
- Write Sprint Retro notes for Sprint 0
- Setup and start using your scrum board and add all product backlog user stories on the board besides your sheet.
- Setup Github for use for the rest of the project using a base-code.

I am having trouble updating the table of contents and it's kinda bugging out on me if anyone else can try I would appreciate it! I also think we could condense the user stories to a better format so it doesn't take up that much space, @gigi I think you were doing those (or whosoever actually was doing it)?? If your okay with it, I'll do that after I finish writing a quick summary on the data model

Huy 08/20/2023 5:00 PM
I'll take care of formating the table

A team member providing an update of their progress.

tanya 09/16/2023 2:46 AM

okay brief update:

ive organised all tasks assigned to me in the project board - adding story number, name and actual user story, ACs, and a checklist of smaller tasks to be completed within that specific task (feel free to have a look and see if its alright)

merged the branch ive been working on -- w/ kevins help (signup page)

started new branch for nav bar, pretty much done just need to link gigi's shopping cart page and i kinda dabbled across all my tasks -- so framework is mostly done for all pages, just need to do the logical API URL stuff also all meeting minute notes are up to date! (edited)

Members notify the group of what they have worked on, others have responded and reviewed.

Kevin 09/22/2023 5:06 PM

I have a pull request up

I think once it is implemented we should only use the docker containers to run the application

The pr also fixed the porting issue I was having

So I need to double check with

@tanya to see if it works with your navbar branch

@everyone pls read the updated docs and let me know if it's unclear, I can update it

@Kevin I think once it is implemented we should only use the docker containers to run the application

Toni 09/22/2023 6:19 PM

Keely (leader) 09/27/2023 8:17 PM

Kevin 09/29/2023 3:30 PM

You'll need to do documentation btw

On the different app calls I think it's within the requirement specs

2.4 - 04/10/2023

A team member has started drafting up presentation PowerPoint slides and letting others know what the requirements are.

Keely (leader) Today at 2:11 PM

i have slimed it down to 12 slides, one for your own work and one for the presentation requirements. This does mean only 30 seconds per slide, we might be able to extend that time if the demo takes less than 4 min i have a lil bit of information for what needs to be on each slide in the notes section of each slide page, if everyone can choose a slide they want to work on that way were all contibuting. The main thing is that presentations for better if there is minimal text and you are not speaking directly whats on the slide 👍

2.5 - 04/10/2023

A team member has notified another member that their work is complete so it is ready to be used for another task.

gigi Today at 3:39 PM
